Amendment A9: Requirements to meet a green building standard in Multifamily zones

Primary Sponsor: Councilmember Johnson

This amendment would increase the thresholds above which projects in Multifamily zones would have to meet a green building standard.

Under the existing code, projects in Multifamily zones can achieve extra floor area by meeting a green building standard and providing additional public benefits, such as screening parking or providing affordable housing. The green building standard requires development to achieve a green building certification, (i.e. LEED Gold, Built Green 4-Star, Passive House, etc.) plus a 15% energy efficiency improvement over the energy code minimum. Under existing rules, the Floor Area Ratio (FAR) above which the green building standard applies varies significantly based on the zone and type of development (e.g. detached, townhouse, rowhouse, or apartment). Under the proposed legislation, the requirement would vary by zone but not by development type.

Green building standards typically incorporate multiple criteria, such as indoor air quality, local materials, or stormwater, as well as energy and water efficiency. The efficiency criteria reduce the ongoing annual energy and water utility costs to owners and tenants, but the green building standards may increase upfront costs to developers (though upfront costs to developers vary considerably due to a variety of project factors and design decisions).

While the green buildings standards are already in place, this requirement, combined with Mandatory Housing Affordability (MHA) requirements, could result in higher housing costs. This amendment would increase the FAR above which the green building standard applies so that the additional floor area provided through MHA can be achieved without meeting the green building standard. Developers could build to the maximum FAR by meeting the green building standard. The following chart summarizes what this would mean for the green building threshold:

	Current Threshold (varies by development type)	Threshold: Proposed Legislation	Threshold: Proposed Amendment	Maximum FAR
LR1	0.9-1.1	0.9	1.1	1.3
LR2	1.0-1.1	1.0	1.2	1.6
LR3 (outside urban village)	1.1-1.3	1.1	1.6	1.8
LR3 (inside urban village)	1.1-1.5	1.1	1.8	2.3
MR	3.2	3.2	3.45	4.5

Below is a diagram that shows what this would mean for a townhouse project in a LR1.

Amendment B7: Use of cash contributions for homeownership

Primary Sponsor: Councilmember Herbold

Background:

This amendment would require that at least five percent of revenue from the Mandatory Housing Affordability – Commercial (MHA – C) and Mandatory Housing Affordability – Residential (MHA – R) programs be allocated for capital investment in homeownership projects.

Under the current framework cash contributions from the payment option may be used for either rental or ownership housing. However, the framework does not prescribe a minimum allocation for either type of project.

~~Double strikeouts~~ indicate language proposed to be removed.

A dashed underline indicates that language that was proposed to be deleted that would be retained by this amendment.
